Delta Airlines Pet Policy: Full Overview

Delta Airlines allows many small pets in the cabin and permits larger pets to travel through Delta Cargo. To ensure safety and comfort, Delta enforces strict kennel, health, and temperature-limit rules. Passengers should review documentation requirements carefully before traveling.

Types of Pet Travel Allowed by Delta Airlines

1. In-Cabin Pet Travel

Small pets such as dogs, cats, and household birds can travel under the seat in an approved carrier. Space is limited, so early booking is recommended. For help, call 1-844-702-0790.

2. Delta Cargo Pet Travel

Pets too large for the cabin may be accepted via Delta Cargo, subject to breed restrictions and temperature conditions. Availability varies by route, season, and aircraft type.

3. Service Animals

Service dogs travel for free in the cabin, provided required behavioral and documentation guidelines are met.

4. Emotional Support Animals (ESAs)

Delta no longer accepts ESAs as service animals; they must travel as pets following the standard pet policy.
